ON THE COVER: The USA will compete in men's and rhythmic gymnastics and trampoline at the 2018 Youth Olympic Games in Buenos Aires, Argentina, later this year. The performances of Brandon Briones (men's gymnastics), Alyssa Oh (trampoline), and Shannon Xiao (rhythmic gymnastics) at their respective Junior Pan American Championships qualified the USA for a Youth Olympic Games berth, and the athletes in those disciplines who will compete in the Youth Olympic Games will be chosen this summer in accordance with the respective selection procedures. The performances of Jordan Bowers (women's gymnastics) and mixed pair Jordan Gruendler and Tim Massa (acrobatic gymnastics) also qualified the USA for a Youth Olympic Games berth, but the USA is not participating in those two disciplines.
